

YOU'RE INVITED TO

1 ABCD TRAINING

We are excited to welcome you to this three-day, interactive training on an Indigenous approach to community development focused on tourism and hospitality.

Connect with others to collectively build your understanding of community development and tourism and hospitality in your own community.

You will:

- Grow your understanding of Indigenous approaches to community building and become a community changemaker
- Collectively identify community engagement strategies that start with local strengths and assets rather than needs and problems
- Learn action planning tools that can help identify community-led opportunities in tourism and hospitality
- Visit local tourism and hospitality sites and get inspired by stories from others
- Plan for the future, using what you've learned
