

Indigenous Workplace Learning Circles

Indigenous Workplace Learning Circles (IWLC)

helps foundation learners, people new to the workplace and people returning to work. The program builds on participant's strengths and incorporates traditional culture and language with employment readiness training to build their confidence and essential skills.

Facilitators will get an orientation to the IWLC program and learn:

- cultural facilitation strategies
- how to adapt IWLC sessions for their community and online learning
- literacy instructional techniques

Date: February 28th to March 1st
